¹The illustrations in this study were in the original obscurely numbered, faint, and often did not address the written descriptions or were inadequate. The language of the descriptions was also somewhat opaque, heavily abbreviated, and unlike that used in other studies. This study will need to be redone – Tr.

²The original word was “characteristic” or “distinctive”. “Characteristic”, unfortunately, can mean “typical” or “unique” depending on context. I have chosen to use “distinctive”, but could be wrong – Tr.
